Davis Bynum Opens Winery At 614 San Pablo Avenue

What happens when a man becomes more interested in his hobby than in his job?

If you ask the proprietor of Albany's only bonded winery, he'll tell you, "I made my hobby my business."

The man in question is Davis Bynum, former newspaper writer and publisher, who this week opens Bynum Winery at 614 San Pablo Ave., Albany. Bynum will be blending and bottling his own "Davis Bynum" label wines and offering them for sale through an attractive new tasting room in the Albany winery building.

Bynum, former staff writer for the San Francisco Chronicle and publisher of weekly newspapers in Southern California, decided to devote full time to wine-making after returning to the Bay Area from down south last fall.

He has long been perfecting his skills as a non-professional vintner—buying choice grapes from friends in the wine industry and using the Zinfandels which he packed off a vineyard owned by his father in St. Helena.

Like his father, Lindley Bynum, also a wine devotee, Davis Bynum has judged wine at the California State Fair and participated in competitive tastings here and in Sacramento.

He resides in Berkeley with his wife, Dorothy, and two children, Hampton, 15, and Susan, 12, both of whom have helped their father press grapes since they were old enough to tramp on them with anything resembling enough vigor to start the juice flowing.

Bandshow '65 at 7:30 Friday

Final Push for Uniforms Combined with Concert

"Bandshow-1965," this year's edition of the annual Albany High School Band concert, will be staged at 8 p.m. Friday, March 19.

The 70 members of the band are busy putting final touches on the one-hour program, which is being used this year to help raise money for much-needed new uniforms.

Solos by three specially picked band members will highlight the evening bandshow. Senior Jim Orlemann will play the tympani solo "Tympani"; junior Rod Allen will perform a piano solo, Richard Rodgers' "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue"; Greg deGiere will deliver the dramatic musical narration in "A Lincoln Portrait" by Aaron Copland.

The concert and reception afterwards are free and open to the public. The Band wishes to invite everyone who is interested in good band music, and everyone who wants to support the AHS Band.

A wide variety of music will be featured at the Bandshow, including both serious and light pieces. Sousa marches, piano and timpani solos, Dixieland numbers and several other kinds of music will accent the evening.

Auxiliary Essay Contest Judges Announced

Students of all Albany public schools have completed Antierism essays for competition sponsored by Albany unit 292, American Legion Auxiliary.

This is a statewide competition and an annual affair. Titles this year are: "Five Wishes For My Country," grades four, five, and six; "What I Can Do Today For My Country," grades seven, eight, and nine; and "The Foresight of Our Forefathers," grades 10, 11, and 12.

Mrs. A. F. Drozda, Americanism chairman, has announced the following judges for the contest: Ralph Buckwalter, active Legion member; Mrs. Marjorie Kane, retired teacher; Carl MacWilliams, editor of the Albany Lions club "Lampoon," Mrs. MacWilliams, and Tom Conroy, recent winner of the Freedom Foundation award.

Winners will be announced the end of March and the awards presented at a later date.

This 1965 Bandshow will climax the Band uniform fund drive which began last September. "The uniform campaign has received support from almost every civic, service and veterans organization in Albany, and many outside the city," commented Director Douglas.

To help bring the drive to a successful conclusion, the Albany City Council has officially declared the day of the Bandshow, Friday, March 19; as "Albany High School Band Day."

The program for the Bandshow will begin with John Phillip Sousa's "Liberty Bell March." "The Blue and the Grey," a medley of civil war songs arranged by Grundman, will be next, followed by Frank Ericson's lovely "Black Canyon of the Gunnison."

Albany majorettes Andi McDaniels and Susie Jones will be featured next in a flashy routine to "Walk on the Wild Side," by Elmer Bernstein.

Rod Allen will follow with Andre Previn's piano solo "Like Young."

The "Original Dixieland Concerto" by Johnny Warrington will be next. This is an arrange-

COUNCIL URGES SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S RIGHT TO VOTE PROGRAM

Albany City Council Monday night unanimously voted to urge senators and representatives to support President Lyndon Johnson in his effort to assure everyone the right to vote.

Action was taken on a motion by Councilman Lewis Howell after a motion by Councilman Richard Clark to write the governor of Alabama on granting voting rights to all citizens died for lack of a second.

The Clark motion apparently failed because other councilmen thought, as expressed by Councilman Joe Egenberger, that "to take official action (by writing the Alabama governor) is really presuming quite a bit on our part . . ."

Lynn Berling's exhibit was judged best from fifth graders. Blue ribbon honors went to Colleen Fitzgerald, Linda Cabral, Billy Cunningham, Lorraine Land, Kirsten Petersen, Shari Redel, and Jonathan Saler.

Tops in sixth grade competition was the exhibit by Susan Ganong. Blue ribbon winners were Colleen Campbell, Gloria Cravotto, Lori Hanlan, Kent deGiere, Harry Hanski, Bonnie Pullen, Athena Triggas, Sue Jones, Councilman Joel Parker requested that the word "qualified" be added to Howell's motion, so the wording would be "support the President so that every qualified person has the right to vote." After discussion, during which Clark objected to the word "qualified" and Egenberger defended it on the grounds that certain people (felons, feeble minded, juveniles) have no right to vote, Parker clarified his intent as "equal application of qualifications to register." Everyone then agreed that it was a good motion and it passed unanimously. Copies will be sent to our representatives and senators in Washington, D.C.

In other matters, Council: PASSED resolutions changing the zone in front of 924-926 San Pablo to green and commending members of the police reserve;

Thefts, Burglaries Reported to Police

A woman drops off a friend, a man opens the car door and steals her purse.

A local cabinet maker wakes up one morning to find his '65 auto and items worth $845 missing.

These are two of several thefts and burglaries reported recently to Albany police.

Hazel Smith of Richmond took her friend, who lives at 1129 Dartmouth, home the night of March 14. A white male pulled open the right front door, made off with Mrs. Smith's purse containing $95.

The folks who live at 900 Santa Fe reported that at least $30 cash and perhaps other items had been stolen from their home March 10.

Eli Wilson of 757 Pierce reported March 12 that someone had taken his '65 auto from its parking place at Pierce and Calhoun. Also missing: Speed Graphic camera, transistor radio, citizen band two-way radio, shop coat, plumbing supplies and samples of linoleum and formica. The car is valued at $2,850. Other items, $845.

So, police warn, lock the doors of your automobile and home. Don't take chances. It doesn't ALWAYS happen to other people.

Arts, Crafts Group Notes Anniversary

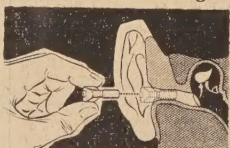

This week, Berkeleys Arts and Crafts Cooperative celebrates its 10th anniversary March 19-21, as a successful joint venture of Bay Area artists, craftsmen, and art-lovers.

ACCI started in 1954 as a very modest sister association to the Berkeley Co-op, with first-ranking local artists and craftsmen Rosemary Cahoon, Kay Sekimachi, Bob Stockdale (Berkeley), Catherine Webb (Albany), Vernon Suther (Kensington), and Sylvia Moray (Castro Valley) among its organizers. Housed in the Shattuck Ave. Co-op building until a year and a half ago, ACCI outgrew its facilities and emerged, in the fall of 1963, with not only a handsome brick building of its own at 1632 Shattuck Ave., but also with a wider function in the community—a program of classes in arts and crafts for the layman and the skilled amateur, both.

Honoring the 10th anniversary, ACCI will present an event in another art form this weekend: a concert by the Frank Shawl-Victor Anderson Dance Company, brilliant new East Bay modern dance group, with Mona Wahle, pianist, on Sunday afternoon, March 21, 4 p.m., at the First Unitarian Church, 1 Lawson Road, Berkeley.

Performance for Children In Berkeley April 3

A performance for children by the Open Theater Mime Group and folk singers Elaine Gaeler and Bernie Burns will be given Saturday, April 3, at the Berkeley Little Theater, Allston Way and Grove Street in Berkeley.

Elaine Gaeler with her guitar sings folk melodies and jazz spirituals. Negro folk singer Bernie Burns plays two harmonicas and a guitar, sometimes all at once. He sings one number while playing the harmonica.

Ben Jacopetti with Gerald Wainwright will direct the Open Theater Group in a series of playlets for children of all ages. One sequence is "The Dream Machine," a rather incredible device of kaleidoscopic colored lights accompanied by music and voices. Both the folk singers and the entertainers who are donating their talents to this special show are currently featured at the Cabale Creamery in Berkeley.

The benefit performance is sponsored by Children's Community Center, California's oldest non-profit cooperating nursery school. The proceeds will be used for a court test of the tax status of nonprofit cooperative nursery schools. Such schools enjoyed property tax exemption as non-profit educational institutions until 1964. Then the Education Code was reinterpreted to exclude nursery schools as educational institutions. This is considered a step backward by many educators. The approximately 200 cooperative nursery schools in Northern California will be affected.

Tickets to the show are $1, available at the performance (doors open at 1:30 p.m.), the Cabale Creamery, 2504 San Pablo Ave., and Children's Community Center, 1140 Walnut St., Berkeley.

Miss Daphna Noy, Miss Israel of 1964, will join Lou Gottlieb, famed folk singer, formerly with the Limelights, in attending Berkeley United Jewish Welfare fund campaign inaugural dinner March 21 at Berkeley House, 920 University Ave.

David E. Adelson, dinner chairman, has announced the dinner will be the second ever held solely for residents of the Berkeley area and surrounding communities. It will officially launch a drive to raise $75,000, Berkeley's share of East Bay Jewry's Welfare fund goal of $527,600.

Rabbi Irving I. Hausman of Temple Emanu-El in San Francisco, will be speaker.

Others on the general committee are Philip H. Diamond, Mrs. Henry Ensler, Jay Gittlesohn, Albert Lehman, Herbert Rubin, Nahum Zeitnick, Julian Cohn, Harold Edelstein, Joseph Grodin, Ben Malik, Harry J. Sapper and Dr. Saul Zizner.

Yvonne A. Walkup Speaks About Service

The qualities of understanding and consideration apply to funeral service just as they do to a person's day-to-day encounters with friends. In fact, these qualities are even more important in funeral service than normally, for a family's sensitivity is so greatly increased by bereavement.

This is not my opinion only... it is a fact which all of us at Ellis-Olson Mortuary recognize, and which we all keep in mind every time we have the honor of serving.

ONLY TWO more weekends of "Goldilocks" are scheduled by Contra Costa Civic Theatre, so if you like them fast-moving and funny, plan to get there Friday or Saturday at 8:30 before the final curtain goes down March 27. Anne Haslett stars in the musical comedy by Jean and Walter Kerr. It's a tremendous production about early-day movie making. Clever touch: film clips to introduce the cast, show passing of time, etc. The theatre is at Blake and San Pablo.

DeMello-Morton Marriage

Judith Ann DeMello, daughter of the Alvin DeMellos of Berkeley, and Richard Raymond Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Morton of Albany, were married in afternoon rites at St. Lawrence O'Toole Catholic church.

Following a honeymoon in Hawaii, they are now at home in Albany on Brighton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Bianchi gown of ivory satin embroidered with seed pearls and beading on the bodice and front skirt panel. The straight skirt featured side panels which swept into a cathedral train. Her ivory silk illusion net veil was cathedral length and fell from a small pillbox of ivory satin. She carried a cascade of white butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

The bride carried an heirloom ivory rosary which has been carried by three generations of brides in her family.

Darlene Denman, maid of honor, wore an empire sheath of moss green crepe with matching bow and veil. She carried a cressent of cypripedium orchids and ivy, tied with gold and moss green bows.

Six bridesmaids wore gowns in a warm gold shade designed to match the frock worn by the maid of honor. Their bows, veiling and tie on bouquets of orchids and ivy matched their gowns. Bridesmaids were Janet Burke, Sharon Newberry, Robin Jones, Donna Johnson, Julie Nickerson and Pat Flannery.

Kathy Camozzi and Sherri Mobeus were flower girls, wearing gold dresses and dropping petals of white and yellow roses. Ringbearer was Craig Morton.

Lt. Harold Morton came from Forestdale, Mass., to be his brother's best man. Ushers were Robert Morton, Mike Nausin, Gary Hacker, Kenneth Lahli, Kenneth Dodd and Pagnael Ochao.

Mrs. DeMello was attired in a theater suit of silk beige with gold metallic thread. She wore a corsage of gold orchids. The bridegroom's mother selected an ensemble of candlelight brocade with green cypripedium orchids for her corsage.

A champagne reception for 500 followed in Hotel Claremont's Churchill Room.

The bride, a member of her father's office firm in Oakland, is a Berkeley High School graduate. She is a nurse's aide at Herick Hospital.

Her husband, employed in Emeryville, is planning to enter the field of law enforcement. A graduate of Albany High School, he attended Contra Costa and Oakland City colleges.

The bridegroom's parents came from Italy for the wedding. The bride wore a gown of white peau de soie and carried an arrangement of orchids and stephanotis. Her attendants included her cousin, Mrs. Barbara Sagon, as matron of honor and Given in marriage by her father, Sumner M. Brackett, the bride wore a formal gown of lace and taffeta and her fingertip veil fell from a handmade crown imported from Spain. She carried cypress anemones, white holly and red berries.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Patricia Lamoureux. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Faith Massey. Both wore emerald green satin and carried red roses.

Best man was the bride's brother, Raymond Brackett. David Massey was usher.

Following a reception in the church parlors, the couple left on a wedding trip to Carmel. They are now at home in Atlanta, Ga.

The bride, Albany High School graduate of 1962, attended Armstrong Business College. Her husband is a graduate of the University of Georgia.

Jefferson Players Present Original Musical Comedy

Jefferson Players continue their successful presentations of original musical comedies when they unveil their latest, Friday and Saturday, March 19-20, in the Jefferson School cafeteria, Rose and Acton Streets, Berkeley.

Titled "The Oddest Family Goes Hollywood," it is a sequel to last year's show and contains 14 new songs by Dick Shore, author-composer-lyricist-director of the group.

Whether the Berkeley family can out-manuever the typical Hollywood characters forms the basis of the story. Starring in the show are Betty Hall, Fran Cabral, Dolores Gallinetti, Pat Fascholz, Rose Muller, Judith Ravanal, and George Hongall. Featured as the younger members of the family are Marie Hall, a student at Albany High, John Gray, Paul di Francesco, Linda Shore, and Michele Cabral.

Presentations of "The Oddest Family Goes Hollywood," begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are 50 cents and may be purchased at the door on the evenings of performances.

ENGAGED — An early tember wedding is planned for Donna Lee Scott and Eugene Reed. The future bride is the daughter of Mrs. Scott of Albany and William Scott of Richmond. She is sister, Mrs. Larry H. Sunnyvale. Donna is a graduate of Albany High School. She is teaching at Kappa School in San Mateo. The prospective groom is the son of Mrs. Cecil Reed of Albany and the brother of Larry Reed of Sacramento. Now in his final year at Hastings College of Law, he was graduated from Stanford University, where he was affiliated with Theta

Walter-Kennedy Ceremony

Mrs. May Ellis Olson, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Walter, Harold W. Olson — Cecil Davis Photo.

Virginia Lucille Kennedy of San Francisco became the bride of William Martin Walter in Berkeley at an afternoon ceremony performed by Dr. James Comfort Smith at the Northbrae Community Church.

White gladioli and white chrysanthemums were on the altar to which the bride was escorted by Harold W. Olson, uncle of the bridegroom. — Virginia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Otto Padgett of Sullivan, Indiana, were unable to be here for the wedding.

William, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William C. Walter, was formerly of Albany, recently of Wood City.

The bride's gown, fashioned of blue silk with a pale green design, had three-quarter length sleeves with a neckline in front dropping to a waist and V in back. The back of the gown formed a wide pleat from waist to hem, adding an interesting detail. She selected matching blue slippers and white gloves. Blue melene silk net with matching Dior bow formed the headress. She placed a ten peso note in her slipper for luck and carried a shower bouquet of white butterfly orchids.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Dorothy Miller of San Francisco, a close friend of the bride, wore a deep blue silk sheath with a string of pearls, matching rose slippers and white gloves. Her rose melene silk net headress matched the bride's. Her bouquet was a shower of pink carnations.

Best man was Irving Steffan of Redwood City, who recently returned Europe with the benedict. Others were the groom's two brothers, Fredric Valentine Walter and Robert Harold Petersen. The wedding reception, attended by 80 guests, was held in the church parlor.

The groom's aunt, Mrs. Harold W. Olson, sister of his mother, was attired in a two-piece blue Italian silk suit. She wore a heavenly blue flowered hat with a small veil. Her gloves and purse were of the same blue. Her flowers were white orchids.

Mrs. Walter graduated from Graysville High School and Indiana State College in Terre Haute, Ind. She was the first woman to enroll at Chicago Technical College of Engineering when it became co-educational. She is the supervisor of the business office of Pacific Telephone Company in San Francisco.

An alumnus of Oakland Technical high school and the Fox-Morgan School of Commercial Art, Walter is associated with Greyhound Lines in San Francisco.

Following the wedding reception, a family dinner, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Olson, was held at the Berkeley House. Thirty-two members of the family attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter are honeymooning in Carmel and will make their home at 4204 Mission Street, San Francisco.

Crystals, Petrified Wood at Library

Crystals and petrified wood from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Swindell of Berkeley, are currently on display at the Albany Library.

The woods were collected in California, Nevada, Arizona, Oregon and Washington. The display, which also features woods belonging to Ken Taylor of Kensington, who recently retired from the Western Regional Research Laboratory, will continue through March.

It is one of a number of small exhibits under the auspices of the Berkeley Gem and Mineral Society to call attention to their forthcoming "World of Gems" show April 3 and 4 at the Claremont Hotel.

Three Indian Guide Tribes Formed at Y

Three more father and son Y-Indian Guide tribes have elected officers.

Costanoyan tribe: Chief, Big Bull, Forenzio Martinez; Tally-keeper, Strong Bow, Jim Camaren; Wampum Bearer, Big Running Deer, Dick Wagner.

Shawnee tribe: Chief, Big Yellow Knife, Jerald Becker; Talleykeeper, Loud Thunder, Chuck Martin; Wampum Bearer, Old Bull, Edgar Brichta.

Hopi tribe: Chief, Big Walking Bear, Ken Lettrich; Talleykeeper, Wah-bit, Alf Prentice; Wampum Bearer, Black Hawk, Len Patterson.

The Y-Indian Guide program is sponsored by the Albany YMCA.

It is for boys in the first, second and third grades and their fathers. Its purpose is to develop a closer relationship between father and son. Meetings are held twice a month in the homes of the members. One of the basic rules of Indian Guides is that the son cannot attend a meeting without his father.

Local Youth Accepted by Drama Group

John M. Blomberg, Jr., son of the owners of Albany Washette at 809 San Pablo, has been accepted by Bishop's company of Burbank following a single audition in San Francisco.

The company goes on the road

April 4 and will appear in Oakland some time this season.

John, whose home address is 5720 San Diego, El Cerrito, majored in drama at Contra Costa Junior College following his graduation from El Cerrito High School in 1963. Through a special grant, a Male Actor's group was formed at Mills College. John was a member of the group.

He worked in drama with the Oakland Recreation Department and with Contra Costa Civic Theater.

Albany Soldier In Jungle Exercise

Army Pfc Carl E. Risch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Risch, 616 Adams St., Albany, participated in a special 27-hour jungle training exercise in the Canal Zone.

Risch and other members of Company C, 4th Battalion, 10th Infantry, crossed the 50-mile Isthmus separating the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans by hacking their way through dense jungles, fording streams and being ferried across one of the canal's lakes.

The 21-year-old soldier, a gunner in the company, entered the Army in September, 1963, and completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif. He was graduated from Albany High School in 1962.

Accordingly, Berkeley Post will be host to Albany Post Tuesday, March 23, starting at 6:30 p.m. in the Berkeley Veterans Memorial building. If the number of Albany Post members who will attend the March 23 dinner is judged by the numbers attending in the past, Berkeley Post will have to dine 80 or more hungry veterans from Albany.

Everything in Readiness for Dimes Show Tomorrow

Plans are completed, models are fitted and all details are completed for the annual March of Dimes fashion show at Albany Theatre beginning at 7:30 tomorrow evening, Chairman Frank Ellsworth has announced. Sponsored by Albany service clubs and organizations, the show features fashions for spring from New York designers. A total of 16 models will show two outfits each. Mrs. Robert McFadden is fashion coordinator. Nora Hampton, fashion editor of the Oakland Tribune, will be commentator. Hal Denham will master ceremonies. Furs will be shown by models of Berkeley. Organist Marion Griffing will preside at the piano. Hammond from Sherman is doing hair for models and the Berkeley Beauty School is doing hair styles for teenage models. The "Easter Parade" theme of the 1965 show, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Nursery is arranging for a parade of floats and greenery typical of the season. Chairman Marion Griffing has wrapped nearly 100 letters from merchants and individuals. She said that the "Albany Florist" previously listed is American Florist at the corner of Solano and San Pablo.

Ticket Chairmen Jim Rodwell and Carl MacWilliams of Albany Lions club expect a complete report on advance sales at a meeting of the general committee this afternoon. It is anticipated that tickets will be available at the door. The $2 entitles the holder to win a prize, see the hour-long fashion show and a technicolor movie, "Pleasure of His Company." An effort has been made to streamline the show this year so everyone will be able to see the movie and get home at a reasonable hour, Ellsworth said.

State March of Dimes Chairman Thomas McLaren of Berkeley will be a special guest at the show. Many county officials are planning to attend. Former Mothers March Chairman Mrs. A. J. McCosker of Oakland is coming with a party of 10.

Civic and Dimes leaders will sit in a special reserved section.

Albany Man Honored By E. Bay Park District

Robert E. Clark

Robert E. Clark, fire chief of the East Bay Regional Park District and head of its equipment department, has been honored for his 20 years' service to the Park District by park directors. A gold pin, commemorating his service, was presented to him by William Penn Mott, Jr., EBRPD general manager.

Clark, with his wife, Margaret, resides at 1012 Santa Fe Avenue, Albany. They are the parents of a grown daughter.

As a mechanic's helper, Clark joined the Park District in 1945, quickly rising to the position of equipment superintendent and fire chief. He became head of the equipment department in 1962.

Because of the difficult terrain in Tilden Regional Park, and the other parks in the district, Clark saw the necessity for special fire protection and fire fighting techniques in the parks, and over the years has been largely responsible for developing the methods used in them. Clark's headquarters are in Tilden Regional Park, Berkeley. A great favorite with

Dr. Everett A. Coe will introduce the speaker. The local club invites members of the Masonic fraternity and their friends to attend.

Letters

Editor, the Times:

The beast of bias rages in the street
Clouting, stomping, ravaging the mass
Of Christian brethren under bigot's feet
Gagging, choking, searing them with gas.
Tho' I cannot to the Southland now depart
Singing, praying, from church to courthouse door
I will surely march there in my heart
And will remember Selma evermore.

FLORENCE FOSSELIUS
711 San Carlos.

Editor, the Times:

The Board of Directors of the Albany Homeowners and Taxpayers Association urges all home owners to attend the Planning and Zoning Commission meeting to be held at City Hall the evening of March 23, 1965 (Tuesday) for the open hearing on rezoning certain areas between San Pablo Avenue to Masonic and certain areas between Brighton and Dartmouth.

On looking at the map most of the area in these two sections is up for rezoning, so unless property owners want their homes to be surrounded by multiple dwellings, now is the time to protest. May I point out that once the rezoning is done it will be too late!

Local Democrats Launch Drive to Aid South

Citizens of Albany are being urged to aid needy citizens of the Southern states with contributions of money and educational materials in a project launched by the Albany Democratic Club on March meeting.

In special demand are children's books, dictionaries, text books, writing materials and other supplies to be used in schools where these items are not supplied and where the children are unable to buy them.

Contributions of money are requested to pay postage for mailing the supplies and sent to buy them in the local areas.

"The club members feel that this is one concrete way that we can help to put an end to the inhuman conditions that exist today in the South," club President Phyllis Lyon said. "We ask everyone in Albany who wants to do something other than sit idly by to join us in this effort."

The club is responding to a request from Miss Joyce Barrett who visited Mr. and Mrs. Burt Lewis in Albany last fall. Miss Barrett is presently working with needy children in Albany, Ga.

Anyone wishing to contribute books or other useful materials may leave them at the home of

Cub Pack 7 Blue and Gold Dinner at Cornell School

Cub Pack 7 recently held its Blue and Gold Dinner in Cornell cafeteria in conjunction with its regular Pack meeting. Boys in each den decorated tables with their own handiwork, but the pot-luck dinner was under the supervision of a committee of mothers: De Goodman and Barbara Jaramillo, Den 11; Anna Trachtenberg, Den 1; Lois Lyness, Den 2; Marilyn Bailey, Den 3; Ellen Corvello, Den 4; Almira Sieraski, Den 7; Virginia Torres, Den 9;

Nora Hampton Has Had Busy Life

Nora Hampton, who was invited by the Oakland Tribune to design and establish the papers first fashion department two years ago, has traveled the world, worked in the executive offices of two presidents (Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower), written for TV and movies and devoted most of her working life to newspapering and public relations.

The personable woman who will be commentator for the March of Dimes fashion show at Albany Theatre tomorrow night said she got her start in the newspaper business the hard way—by marrying her first managing editor.

"He said it was to get the worst reporter he ever had out of the city room," she says, "but he promptly rehired me a year later when he went with United Press."

While following her husband through assignments with UP, then with the U.S. Marine Corps through two wars, Mrs. Hampton worked wherever she landed. Sample jobs: member of the public information staff for Defense Production administration, six months as writer for American National Red Cross, writer for the Federal Commission for Commemoration of Woodrow Wilson's 100th anniversary, five years as a free lance promotion and public relations consultant in the Bay Area, copy chief for an advertising agency in Honolulu, journalism teacher and director of the sidewalk show at Sather Gate in Berkeley.

A graduate of Stephens College, Mrs. Hampton is witty, charming and knowledgeable about fashions.

She and her husband, John, live in Orinda.

TOP VOLUNTEER — William Garren, owner of Albany Theatre, has staged a project for the March of Dimes each year since the organization began in 1938. He came to Albany in 1940 and for the past 25 years, he has run the special films and collected hundreds of dollars for the organization, or staged the fund-raising fashion shows. Garren donates the theatre and all his employees for the social event, which has become a tradition in Albany.

HAIR FASHIONS for models in the "Easter Parade" show at Albany Theatre tomorrow night will be by Karousel Koiffures. Here co-owner Clifford May puts finishing touches on model Lorrene Baum.

Surprise Honor Feature of Dimes Show

A high light of the "Easter Parade" fashion show at Albany Theatre tomorrow night will be a surprise presentation to an outstanding person.

Chairman Frank Ellsworth and his committee are keeping details a secret.

"We know everyone in Albany will want to be on hand to show their appreciation of this deserving individual," he said.

Moose Lodge Plans Dinner Dance Saturday, March 27

Newly chartered Albany Moose lodge 1972 is off to a rousing start after their spectacular installation ceremonies last month. Holding their first social meeting at Maccabees Hall, over 100 members attended a dance and dinner. The dinner was catered by brother Al Lane of Bessie's Cafe with music provided by Rich Allen and the Martels.

The next weekend, seven members were enrolled at the enrollment ceremonies sponsored by the Castro Valley-Hayward Moose with Supreme Prelate Harold Ross of Illinois in attendance.

With enthusiasm at a high peak, the Albany Moose participated in Albany's groundbreaking ceremonies on March 7, by serving refreshments to everyone.
